FROM

THE HON'BLE MR. E. G. COLVIN, C.S.I., I.C.S.,
Chief Commissioner of Ajmer-Merwara,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA IN THE FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

Dated Abu, the 29th September 1911.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Administration Report of Ajmer-Merwara for the year 1910-1911, compiled by the Commissioner, Lieutenant-Colonel W. C. R. Stratton, I.A., with my remarks thereon.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

E. G. COLVIN,

Chief Commissioner of Ajmer-Merwara.

REMARKS BY THE HON'BLE THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER, AJMER-MERWARA.

The financial results of the year are fairly satisfactory, and the reformed excise system is bringing in a large revenue. This and the management of the Court of Wards and the improvement of agricultural stock are among the most satisfactory features of the report.

2. Paragraph 155 et seq. of the report shows great increase in sales of intoxicants. The still-head duty on country spirits has been recently raised by ten annas per proof gallon, and the effect of this measure on consumption will be watched.

3. The incidence of the income tax per head of population in Ajmer fell from 6 annas and 10 pies in 1909-1910 to 3 annas and 9 pies during the year. The decrease is remarkable, and the Commissioner should give the matter special attention.

4. Paragraph 148 seems to repeat the information given in paragraphs 124 and 127 with discrepancies. The Commissioner will be asked to correct the figures and to show them in the next year's report.

5. The report contains no remarks on the experiment in fluctuating assessments recently introduced in certain villages in the Ajmer and Beawar Tahsils. This matter may be noticed next year.

H. WILKINSON,

*First Assistant to the Agent to the Governor General in Rajputana and

Mr. B. J. Glancy held charge of the office from 27th April to 15th July, 15th August to 16th September and again from 9th October to 16th December 1910. 3. Lieutenant-Colonel H. R. Woolbert, I.M.S., and Mr. R. E. Coupland held respectively the offices of Civil Surgeon, Ajmer, and Superintendent of Police, Ajmer-Merwara, throughout the year.

4. The total revenue of Ajmer-Merwara for the year (Imperial and Local) Revenue and amounted to Rs. 16,86,901 as compared with Rs. 15,38,938 last year and the total Expenditure. expenditure was Rs. 12,91,020 as against Rs. 13,47,731 in 1909-1910. (Vide statement 42.)

The decrease in expenditure occurs chiefly under the head "Land Revenue."

6. The surplus of Imperial Revenue during the year under report was Rs. 2,51,094 as compared with Rs. 2,01,442 in the preceding year.

SECTION II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

COURT OF WARDS.

Year ending 31st July 1911.

7. Rai Sahib Munshi Gopi Nath held charge of the post of the General Manager, Court of Wards, Ajmer, throughout the year.

Agricultural aspects.

8. The year under review (Samvat 1967), from an agricultural point of view, was not very prosperous. Owing to the untimely and scanty rains the Kharif crop on the barani land suffered to a certain extent, while the tanks had little or no water in them for irrigation, thus the Rabi was a very very poor crop.

However, this deficiency was made good by the people from the sale of cotton, which was sold at very high prices during the year.

9. There were 12 Estates under supervision at the beginning of the year, of which three, viz., Deolia-Khurd, Sarana and Karel, were given up during the year, leaving only the following 9 Estates, under management at the close of the year, viz., Bhinai, Masuda, Kerot, Kalahera-Bogla, Goela, Basundni, Richmalian, Gangwana and Rajgarh.

10. The balance at the credit of the Court of Wards at the beginning of the year was Rs. 1,63,599 in cash besides Government Promissory Notes of the face value of Rs. 3,36,600.

The income of the Estates under management during 1910-11 amounted to Rs. 2,46,016.

	<hr/> 2,02,347 <hr/>

The figures include Rs. 989-4-0 invested in the purchase of a Government Promissory Note of the face value of Rs. 1,000 on behalf of the Kerot Estate and Rs. 8,400 deposited for the Masuda Estate in the Ajmer Co-operative Central Bank, Limited, at 5 per cent. per annum.

The household expenditure includes Rs. 6,504 paid towards the marriage ceremonies of the Raja of Bhinai, Thakur Jagmalsingh of Sarana, and the sisters of the Wards of Kalahera-Bogla, Goela and Rajgarh, also Rs. 894 spent on the (Mosar) funeral ceremonies of Maji Ranavatji of Kerot and Raja Bijey Singh of Gangwana.

12. The closing balance at the credit of the 9 Estates on the 31st July 1911		stood at Rs. 2,07,268* besides Government

15. At the beginning of the year, the outstandings of all kinds amounted to Demand and Rs. 26,515, while the current demand from all sources amounted to Rs. 2,41,184, Collections. the total demand being as follows :—

18. On the 1st August 1910 the Takavi debt due to Government by the Bhinai and Sarana Estates was Rs. 7,546-14-0 and Rs. 3,706-5-1 respectively. The Bhinai Estate paid up the amount in full, while for Sarana a sum of Rs. 308-13-9 was paid, leaving the balance Rs. 3,397-7-4 to be paid by Thakur Jagmal Singh as instalments become due, the Estate having been made over to him on the 30th June 1911.

Education of the Wards.

20. During the year Sobhag Singh, younger brother of the Goela Ward, joined the Mayo College, while Thakur Jagmal Singh of Sarana left the College on attaining his majority.

At the close of the year there were ten boys, who continued their studies at the College, viz., Rajah Sardul Singh of Bhinai, Thakur Bijey Singh of Masuda, Thakur Udai Singh of Kerot, Thakur Nathu Singh of Kalahera-Bogla, Thakur Ranjeet Singh of Goela and his younger brother, Rajah Raj Singh of Rajgarh, Thakur Udai Singh of Basundni, and Ran Bijey Singh and Sawai Jai Singh, brothers of the Thakur of Sarana.

21. The health of all the wards was good throughout the year except that the Rajah of Bhinai was laid up for some time from the effects of a fall from his horse and the young Goela Ward received a wound in his foot from the accidental discharge of his own gun.

Both boys however continued their studies without interruption.

The general progress reports of all the boys at the College were satisfactory.

SECTION III.

PROTECTION.

(I) AJMER-MERWARA POLICE (YEAR ENDING THE 31ST DECEMBER 1910).

22. Mr. R. E. Coupland held charge of the office of Superintendent of Police in Ajmer-Merwara throughout the year.

23. The total volume of cognizable crime reported in 1910 was 3,784 cases against 3,137 in 1909. These figures include all cases, whether reported to the police or to Magistrate, but, as a matter of fact, the increase falls entirely among cases reported to the police, the number of cases reported direct to Magistrates having decreased by 74 or 10 per cent. when compared with the figures for 1909. The greatest variation is in cases falling under class VI, the figures of which rose from 1,169 to 1,545. That increase may be attributed almost entirely to greater activity having been shown in suppressing local nuisances in the larger towns. A regular campaign was started when the outbreak of plague commenced towards the end of 1909, which continued well into the year under report, and there can be no doubt that the sanitary condition of Ajmer and several other large towns demanded special measures being taken at that time.

24. Though the increase is greatest in cases falling under Class VI there has been a more or less marked increase in all other classes of crime excepting "Minor offences against the person (Class IV)." To facilitate reference a comparative table, showing details of the cognizable and non-cognizable crime for the year under report and the year which preceded it, is given below :—

Particulars.	1909.					1910.
	COGNIZABLE.			Non-cognizable.	Total Crime.	COGNIZABLE.			Non-cognizable.	Total Crime.
	Police.	Magis-terial.	Total.			Police.	Magis-terial.	Total.

Class IV	3	8	11	1	7	8
Class V	702	189	891	2,078	..	881	185	1,066	3,209	..
TOTAL	1,210	228	1,447	1,564	270	1,834
Class VI	1,169	521	1,690	1,545	405	1,950
GRAND TOTAL . .	2,383	740	3,137	2,078	5,815	3,109	675	3,784	3,209	7,053

The increase under class I has been merely nominal and, if false cases are excluded, the figures for the two years are identically the same.

Under class II the increase has been chiefly among cases of attempted suicide (serial No. 17), kidnapping (serial No. 21) and criminal force (serial No. 23). Here too, however, if cases ultimately expunged as false are eliminated, the total difference is one of nine cases only, which may, I consider, be looked on as a natural increase and calls for no special notice.

The increase among cases of class III is entirely confined to cases of house-breaking and burglary (serial No. 29). The Superintendent attributes this increase to the facilities which the evacuation of houses in plague-stricken parts of the district afforded to enterprising criminals and, as instancing the little loss which resulted in many of those cases, refers to one village where eleven separate cases of house-breaking took place during a single night, the total losses in which were estimated by the owners as four annas.

Under class V the increase falls chiefly among cases of theft (serial No. 34) and receiving stolen property (serial No. 36). The Superintendent is unable to offer any explanation of this increase, but it appears probable that it is due partly to the same causes as the increase under class III and partly to the efforts made to obtain fuller reporting of occurrences.

25. The increase of crime as a whole per 10,000 of population was 77·2 against 65·8 for 1909 and 54·6 for 1908. If, however, sanitary offences and cases ultimately declared to be false are excluded, the figure falls to 38·6 for the year under report against 30·9 for 1909 and 28·5 for 1908.

26. There was an increase of 591 cases of non-cognizable crime during the year. As pointed out in the report for 1909, there was a marked falling-off in the number of cases instituted during that year which was attributed to conditions that ceased to exist shortly after the commencement of 1910. The classification of non-cognizable offences has been altered during the year under report, which makes comparison with the returns of former years somewhat difficult but it appears that the increase is almost entirely in prosecutions under Municipal Regulations and the Hackney Carriages Act, which may be ascribed to increased vigilance on the part of the Municipal authorities rather than to any other cause.

POLICE COGNIZABLE CASES—ALL CLASSES.

27. The total number of cases of cognizable crime reported to the police during the year under report was 3,109 as compared with 2,388 in 1909. As already stated the greater portion of this increase consists of sanitary offences in the town of Ajmer, Beawar and Nasirabad. The figure is a high one and, in commenting on it, the Superintendent of Police writes as follows:—"Reporting is now, I consider, as good as it is ever likely to be. The appointment of village headmen in istimrari areas is approaching completion, and the police continue to pay most satisfactory attention to the subject, constables remedying, to a considerable extent, the deficiencies in the rural reporting agency." With these remarks I concur. In most police stations which I have inspected I have found this subject meets with special attention and that police officers have been themselves responsible for many cases being reported which would probably never have come to light but for local enquiries made by them.

28. No investigation was made in 576 cases reported in 1910. The number of cases which remained uninvestigated in the previous year was 458. The percentage of cases investigated to reported is far higher than in other Provinces. The Superintendent attributes this to the fact that the incidence of crime in urban areas, where investigation is generally desired, is considerably higher than in rural tracts. This applies to other places besides Ajmer-Merwara, however, and I am not satisfied that this is the real cause. Care should be taken that cases of a petty nature are not investigated without special reasons unless the complainant expressly desire it.

29. The total number of police cases decided during the year was 1,995 as compared with 1,537 in 1909. The percentage of cases investigated by the police which ended in conviction was 72 and the percentage of persons convicted in such cases to persons arrested by the police was 89. In 1909 those percentages were 74 and 91·7 respectively. There has been a slight falling-off, but the number of cases and persons dealt with was considerably greater in 1910 than in 1909 and even now the percentages are still very high ones and indicate good work.

Class I.—Offences against the State, Public Tranquility, Safety and Justice.

30. The total number of true cases of this class for disposal was 11. Eight of these ended in conviction and 1 was pending trial at the close of the year. Three were offences relating to coin but were of an unimportant nature and were all prosecuted to conviction. In none of those cases was the origin of the coin traced.

Two cases of frustrated attempts at escape occurred, the one from a police-escort and the other from the Kekri police-station lock-up. These also ended in conviction.

Six cases of rioting were dealt with, all but two of which were sent up for trial. One case was still pending before the Court at the close of the year, but the remaining three all ended in conviction. None of them were cases of any importance.

Class II.—Serious offences against the person.

31. The number of true cases in this class for disposal in the year under report was 82 as compared with 76 in the previous year. Forty-four of these cases came before the Courts for trial with the result that 33 were convicted, 8 acquitted and 3 still pending at the close of 1910.

32. Eight cases of murder were dealt with as compared with four in 1909. One was a case in which a woman threw herself into a well with her child in her arms and both of them were drowned. This was the result of a domestic quarrel between husband and wife and the villagers, so far from assisting the police, attempted to mystify them by removing the corpses to another well. In another case the murderer ran "amok" and has been declared insane. Two cases in which children were the victims remained undetected. The motive for one of those murders was the desire to obtain possession of certain ornaments and, in the other, apparently, the removal of an illegitimate child. In this latter case corpse, when discovered, was headless. In another case, which was hushed up by the villagers in the first instance, the murderer absconded and has so far evaded arrest though there is ample evidence against him. Yet another case, in which the victim's throat was cut at night, remained undetected, the murdered man puzzling the investigating officer by making various conflicting statements before he succumbed to his injury. The remaining two cases came before the Courts, and, though one was still pending at the close of the year, both have now ended in conviction.

33. None of the other cases under this class call for special notice.

Class III.—Serious offences against person or property or against property only.

34. 558 true cases of this class were dealt with by the police during 1910 as compared with 431 in 1909. Only 259 cases were investigated, however, and, of 66 which reached the Courts, 55 ended in conviction, 7 were acquitted and 4 were still pending trial at the close of the year.

35. There were five cases of dakaiti as compared with six in 1909. One of these cases, which consisted of a raid to obtain cattle, ended in five members of a gang of Banjaras encamped in Mewar territory being sentenced to five years rigorous imprisonment each. Three other somewhat similar cases in which cattle were lifted remained undetected, though there was some reason to believe that two of those dakaitis were the work of the gang referred to above.

All but one of those cases occurred early in the year, and since August 1910 there have been no more of the same type. The fifth dakaiti was the only case in which the dakaitis were armed with fire-arms, and, even in that case, they were not brought into use. This was an attack on a party of Mahajans as they were passing through the forest on the south-west of Merwara on their return from a village in Marwar. The dakaiti was a daring one as it was committed in broad daylight and property valued at over Rs. 1,200 was carried off. The police enquiry made it practically certain that this outrage was the work of certain subjects of Marwar, but sufficient evidence as to the actual perpetrators to justify a prosecution could not be obtained.

36. Cases of robbery decreased from 7 in 1909 to 5 in the year under report. Two of these cases were of the same type as most of the dakaitis and consisted of raids by cattle lifters, the only real difference being in the number of criminals concerned. All the cattle stolen were recovered in one of those cases, but both of them remained undetected. A third case is reported to have been more a matter of intrigue than a genuine robbery. One of the remaining cases, in which two ekkas carrying travellers were held up and robbed on the road between Nasirabad and Deoli, was hushed up at the time by the local police and it was not till some time afterwards that the Circle Inspector heard of this, and instituted an enquiry, which in the circumstances not unnaturally proved unavailing. The police officers responsible for this result were suitably dealt with.

In the 5th and last case some of the property was recovered from the possession of certain Sansiahs who were encamped in Mewar not far from the scene of occurrence, and those persons were also identified by the complainants. The case was sent up for trial and the accused were acquitted by the trying Magistrate, who held that the evidence of identification had been vitiated owing to the persons concerned having been brought across from Mewar to Ajmer before their identity was established. This was a most unexpected result, but the case was not considered sufficiently strong to justify an appeal being lodged against that decision.

37. Though the success met with in dealing with such cases of dakaiti and robbery as occurred in the year under report was not very marked, the decrease in violent crime of this class has been marked and is a matter for much congratulation. In 1906 robberies alone numbered 24 and from that time onwards the total number of robberies and dakaitis has been steadily decreasing. Moreover, a recent enquiry into a series of violent crimes of this class, extending over a period of some four years, made to verify the statements of certain recently convicted Sansiahs who were anxious to escape imprisonment, proved that there was not a single one of the numerous cases mentioned in those statements which had not been already reported to and investigated by the police. This was very gratifying, and there is, in my opinion, no doubt that serious crimes of this class have decreased very considerably of late years, and I unhesitatingly ascribe this to the greater efficiency of the Ajmer-Merwara police.

38. The only other form of crime included in class III which calls for special notice is that of housebreaking or burglary (serial No. 29). The number of true cases recorded under that head which were dealt with in the year under report was 544. This constitutes a considerable increase on the figure for 1909, the reasons for which have already been given in paragraph 3 of this report. The total number of cases investigated increased by 67, but there has once again been a falling-off in the number of successful prosecutions, the percentage of cases convicted to cases reported having fallen to 9·6 in the year under report as compared with 14·8 in 1909 and 18·8 in 1908. The Superintendent points out that these figures do not indicate altogether correctly the relative success met with each year in connection with such offences because the number of convictions for dishonestly receiving property stolen in connection with cases of burglary or housebreaking rose from 33 in 1909 to 53 in the year under report. He admits, however, that even so the results cannot be considered altogether satisfactory, and ascribes much of the failure to the fact that many members of the investigating staff are inexperienced officers who have, for the most part, little or no detective ability, and that the States which surrounded Ajmer-Merwara do not give timely information when their own professional criminals absent themselves from their homes. While admitting the truth of what the Superintendent has stated I must point out that these facts do not in themselves constitute a sufficient explanation as to why the standard reached in former years has not been maintained. I consider, however, that the reasons given for the increase in crimes of this class are themselves sufficient to explain the smaller amount of success met with in investigations. In most cases the chances of successfully working out a case of housebreaking which has occurred in a deserted village and is, as a consequence, only reported to the police after considerable delay has occurred can hardly equal the chances of success in a case occurring in a fully-populated village which is reported to the police without such delay. It can only be hoped that, with the disappearance from Ajmer-Merwara of the plague in epidemic form, the returns will once again assume a normal appearance.

Class IV.—Minor offences against the person.

39. Only 2 cases of this class were dealt with in 1910 as compared with 1 in 1909. Both those cases ended in conviction.

Class V.—Minor offences against property.

40. 855 cases falling under this class were dealt with in 1910 as compared with 693 in 1909. The total number investigated was 683 and, of those cases 349 were sent up for trial, of which 305 ended in convictions, 37 in acquittals and 7 were pending at the close of the year.

41. The number of thefts of cattle fell from 71 to 64. Four of those cases are returned as uninvestigated, and of the remainder 14 were sent up for trial, 11 of which ended in conviction. These figures show an improvement on the return for 1909 and, if successful prosecutions under section 411, Indian Penal Code, in connection with the recovery of stolen cattle, be added, the total number of convictions stands at 24 in 1910 as compared with 26 in 1909 and 17 in 1908, while the number of thefts has decreased from 70 in 1908 to 64 in the year under report. The Superintendent states, moreover, that the cases shown as undetected in the return for 1910 include four cases made over to the Court of Vakils, in all of which judgment was given in favour of Ajmer-Merwara.

There has clearly therefore been an improvement in dealing with reported cases, but at the same time I am afraid far more thefts occur than the crime returns would appear to indicate. I note that of 828 head of cattle returned as "strayed" no less than 325 were never recovered, and there is little doubt that a large proportion of those animals were stolen. In 1909 the total number of cattle said to have strayed was 1,013, of which 312 were never recovered. Considering, however, the geographical position of this district and the refusal of the two most important adjoining States to allow direct communication between their police officials and those of Ajmer-Merwara, I do not think the results obtained are altogether unsatisfactory.

42. None of the other offences falling in this class were of a sufficiently serious nature to call for special notice.

Class VI.—Other offences not specified above.

43. Of this class, 1,540 cases were dealt with by the police in the year under report as compared with 1,169 in the preceding year. All but three of these cases came before the Courts for trial with the result that 1,450 ended in conviction, 50 in acquittals or discharge and 37 were still pending trial at the close of the year.

44. Cases of vagrancy and bad livelihood numbered 35 in 1910 against 33 in 1909. Ten of those cases fell under section 110, Criminal Procedure Code, six of which ended in security being called for, while three were still before the Courts at the close of the year. The average security demanded was Rs. 350, and the average term of imprisonment in default was one year. Security was furnished by three of the six persons sentenced. The remaining 25 cases fell under section 109, Criminal Procedure Code, and all but one of these cases ended in an order for security to be furnished. The average security demanded in such cases was fixed at Rs. 73 and the average term of imprisonment in default was six months and 10 days. In only one instance was that security furnished.

The number of prosecutions under these sections has increased very greatly during the last few years. The Superintendent admits, however, that he considers still greater activity required under section 110, Criminal Procedure Code, especially in the larger towns.

The numerous prosecutions under section 109, Criminal Procedure Code, during the last two years have, however, had an excellent effect, and are, I believe, responsible to a considerable extent for the undoubted decrease which has taken place in organized heinous crime.

45. Eighteen prosecutions under the Excise and Opium Acts were initiated by the police in 1910 as compared with 23 in 1909. Fourteen of those prosecutions were successful. Licensed vendors are no longer prosecuted by the police for infringements of the terms of their licenses, but such offences are reported to the Collector of Excise Revenue for action. The illicit sale of cocaine is said to be common in Ajmer, but as in other towns is very difficult to put a stop to. There is little hope of offences against the Excise and Opium Acts decreasing in number until the surrounding States can be induced to bring their tariffs into accord with those in British India. Police officers gained rewards aggregating Rs. 173 for services rendered in cases of this class during 1910.

PROPERTY STOLEN AND RECOVERED.

46. The amount of property stolen was valued at Rs. 99,487 or Rs. 43,417 more than in 1909. All but Rs. 2,988 of this was stolen in cognizable cases. The percentage of recovery in such cases was 13.1. The increase in losses is said to be chiefly due to a few large items. The return compares unfavourably with that of the previous year, but it is notorious that little reliance is to be placed in the figures furnished under this head.

IDENTIFICATION BY MEANS OF FINGER IMPRESSIONS.

47. The number of finger impression slips sent to the Rajputana Bureau for search was 406 as compared with 244 in the previous year. The percentage which resulted in the identity of previously-convicted offenders being established was 16, against 10 in 1909 and 7 in 1908. Increased attention is said to have been paid to this important branch of the work during the year, but the agency for obtaining prints at Courts away from the district head-quarters is said to be still capable of improvement. The results obtained during the year under report may be looked on as very satisfactory in view of the unusually large number of cases in which the peculiar circumstances of Ajmer-Merwara render a reference to the Bureau necessary.

PROCLAIMED OFFENDERS.

48. The names of 47 absconded offenders figured on the registers of this district at the commencement of the year under report and 16 fresh names were added during that year. Nine of these persons were arrested and the names of two others were struck off the registers for other reasons, leaving a closing balance of 52. Of this number, 35 come under class A, and are persons whose name, caste, residence and antecedents have been fully verified, while 17, in class B, are persons regarding whom it has been found impossible to verify such details. One of the absconders arrested during the year was a man who had absconded six years previously and was cleverly traced to the Central Provinces where he was employed as a clerk in the Public Works Department. Several of the persons whose names still figure on this register are said to have been traced to Native States, but, as they are wanted for non-extraditable offences, cannot be arrested so long as they remain in those States.

There is no doubt that some good work has been done under this head in particular instances, but the result of my inspection of the registers at certain police stations leads me to doubt whether all Station-officers pay as much attention to this important question as they should do.

SURVEILLANCE OF PERSONS WHOSE HISTORY-SHEETS HAVE BEEN PREPARED.

49. The number of persons whose history-sheets were still maintained at the close of 1909 is now said to have been 437 and not 430 as reported last year. One hundred and eighty-five new sheets were added during 1910, and 105 sheets discontinued owing to the death, emigration or return to honest livelihood of the persons concerned. The total number of persons whose history-sheets were still kept up at the close of the year was 517 and, of this number, 59 belonged to persons who were again convicted of offences and imprisoned during 1910. The percentage of persons whose present whereabouts are unknown has fallen from 16 to 13·7 and, considering the position of Ajmer-Merwara, this is not a high percentage. My examination of the history-sheets maintained in some of the police-stations was not altogether satisfactory, and I am inclined to doubt whether all officers do their best to keep an efficient watch over persons who are supposed to be under close surveillance. The proximity of the Jaipur and Mewar States, the police officials of which are not permitted to hold direct communication with members of the Ajmer-Merwara police, is, however, no doubt partly responsible for this, and until the Durbars concerned can be induced to relax the orders they have issued on this subject I am afraid but little improvement can be expected.

CO-OPERATION WITH THE POLICE OF NATIVE STATES.

50. The Superintendent of Police testifies to the cordial co-operation he has received from the Kishengarh and Shahpura State police. Considerable assistance has also been received by him from the Marwar police, though there has been some friction at times between his subordinates and petty police-officials of that State. The relations with the Jaipur and Mewar police are not unfortunately equally satisfactory, and the refusal of the Durbars of those States to allow direct correspondence between their police and the Ajmer-Merwara district police causes much inconvenience in many ways.

STRENGTH OF THE FORCE.

51. The only alteration in the sanctioned strength of the Ajmer-Merwara police during the year was a reduction of one head-constable and five constables, due to the abolition of the Excise Guard. The actual cost rose from Rs. 1,47,125 to Rs. 1,79,215. This increase is due to certain of the vacancies which remained unfilled for the greater portion of 1909 having since been filled.

REWARDS AND PUNISHMENTS.

52. No less than 238 men were rewarded in 1910 as compared with 136 in 1909, the total sum paid in rewards rising from Rs. 1,189 to 1,641. In addition to this 17 chaukidars were rewarded with sums aggregating Rs. 47, and Rs. 216 were disbursed to members of the public for information regarding and assistance in police matters.

On the other hand, the Superintendent has found it necessary to punish a considerably larger number of men in 1910 than in the previous year. The total number of punishments inflicted rose from 25 to 43 and includes 4 judicial punishments by a Magistrate, 10 dismissals and 29 other departmental punishments. A considerable number of those cases have come before me on appeal and have satisfied me that departmental cases have not been instituted without grave necessity, and that before punishment has been inflicted full and careful enquiries have been made in all cases. The Superintendent is inclined to attribute the increase in punishments to the fact that many of his subordinates care but little for service in the Police Department. I cannot altogether agree with this, however. Not only has the pay of members of the force been raised considerably as a whole of recent years, but rewards are now given much more liberally than formerly, and a 'Police loan fund' from which members of the force are able to obtain loans at a very low rate of interest was established with the sanction of Government a few years ago. I am afraid the real reason is that the stamp of officer who has in the past held the more important posts such as Inspector and Sub-Inspector was a bad one, and subordinate officers had got into thoroughly bad ways as a result. Most of the officers recently appointed to those posts are men of better education and position than the old stamp and have considerably more energy. It is not unnatural, therefore, that matters calling for correction which would have remained unreported under the old regime should, when brought to light, have resulted in an increase in departmental punishments. That the ultimate result will be beneficial is a matter regarding which I have no doubt.

HEALTH.

53. The health of the force has been fairly good as a whole. The total number of deaths was 16 as compared with 28 in 1909, and the daily average of men absent from duty on account of sickness was the same as in 1909, namely 0.23 per cent. There has been some increase in the total number of admissions into the hospital, it is true, but that does not necessarily denote more sickness. Quinine is said to have been distributed to all police-stations as a prophylactic measure.

CASUALTIES.

54. The following casualties occurred during the year 1910:—

(1) Pension or gratuity	24
(2) Resignation without pension or gratuity	100
(3) Dismissal	14
(4) Discharge otherwise than above	48
(5) Desertion	6
(6) Death	16

The number of resignations has risen still higher than in 1909, and now stands at 100, as compared with 54 in the previous year. The Superintendent explains this in the following words:—"The number of men who deserted or resigned rose from 58 to 106. Owing to the large number of vacancies existing last March,

"I made special efforts to obtain recruits in April, May and June and obtained a large number, but as soon as the monsoon was fairly established, the attractions of village life proved too great and the majority of the men left. At the present moment I have nearly 100 vacancies which I see no prospect of filling permanently. During the hot weather months and during any period of agricultural depression or scarcity, recruits will come in, but the present rates of pay are insufficient to retain them. Local competition is severe: two native infantry regiments and a recruiting staff officer recruit locally and offer much higher pay than we do, a sepoy-recruit receiving pay and allowances equivalent to a total of 80 per cent. more than a recruit-constable. In addition there is the competition of the local workshops and cotton-presses and the question of higher pay or some allowance will have to be seriously faced." There is no doubt that satisfactory recruits are hard to get. I have made numerous enquiries as to the reasons for this from various officers and others, and am inclined to agree with the Superintendent that the shortage is due to economic causes which we cannot control. At certain times and seasons men will no doubt come forward who have no natural inclination for service in the police and are forced to join from the pressure of circumstances, but such men will never stay for long. I have consulted various officers as to the effect on recruiting which an enlistment allowance of Rs. 5 or Rs. 6 or an increase in the pay of constables by one rupee per mensem would have, but they are all of opinion that it would have little lasting effect. On the other hand, there has been no very great variation in the figures where men of over one year's service are concerned, and one can only hope that time will improve matters.

In other respects the casualties in 1910 vary but little from those of the previous year. There has been a slight increase in the number of men discharged within their probationary period, which is again attributable to the unsatisfactory state of recruiting. The number of casualties owing to retirement was also somewhat higher in 1910 than in the previous year, but is more than counterbalanced by the decrease in casualties owing to death.

GENERAL REMARKS.

55. The work done by the police has, as a whole, been good, and in certain respects shows a considerable advance on that of previous years. Instances of individual good services have been numerous, and there seems every reason to believe that when the full effect of the reforms introduced in accordance with the recommendations of the Police Commission is felt, the work of the force as a whole will show an even more marked improvement. Much is still in a transition stage, however. The investigating staff is now recruited from a better class than formerly, and many of the most promising officers are among those who have benefited by a course of training at the Moradabad police-training school. The question of providing more suitable Reserve Lines is still under consideration, and family quarters for officers have yet to be added to many of the police-stations. The training of recruits is receiving special attention, but the large number of vacancies, which it has so far been found impossible to fill owing to local conditions, prevents that course from extending over so long a period as is desirable. The instruction of police constables in the principles of "First Aid to the Injured" was commenced during the year, and a large number of students have already qualified in that course. Orders have recently been received from the Government of India for the relief of the Ajmer and Beawar Municipalities from all police-charges.

(4) REGISTRATION (YEAR WHICH ENDED ON THE 31ST DECEMBER 1910).

81. The total number of all classes of documents presented for registration during the year under report was 3,751 as against 3,605 in the preceding year. The increase of 146 which occurred chiefly under "obligatory class" may be accounted for by the fact that last year the prevalence of plague tended to decrease registration.

82. Out of the total number of documents presented for registration 2,285 documents, or 60.92 per cent. of the whole, as against 63.71 per cent. in the preceding year, were registered by the Sub-Registrar, Ajmer.

83. The area of agricultural land transferred by sale during the year was 5,424 bighas, as compared with 4,653 bighas in the year 1909, showing an increase of 771 bighas. Similarly the area of agricultural land transferred by mortgage also shows an increase of 1,790 bighas, i.e., from 5,790 bighas in the preceding year to 7,580 bighas in the year under report.

84. The total value of land transferred by sale and mortgage amounted to Rs. 3,20,460 or Rs. 26,686 more than in the preceding year.

85. The total receipts and expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 7,732 and 2,339 as against Rs. 6,909 and Rs. 2,077 respectively in 1909, showing a surplus of Rs. 5,393, which is satisfactory.

86. The system of recording thumb impressions worked well throughout the year.

(5) MUNICIPALITIES (YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH 1911).

87. The constitution of the Ajmer Municipal Committee remained unchanged.

88. During the year under report the Committee held 24 meetings, of which 10 were special and 14 ordinary. The average attendance at each meeting was 9.24 and 15.12 respectively.

The expenditure amounted to Rs. 2,64,057 as against 2,83,864 in the previous year; and the closing balance was Rs. 1,02,632. If refunds are excluded which amounted to Rs. 37,046 in 1909-10 and Rs. 52,654 in 1910-11, the figures for the two years compare as follows:—

	1909-10.	1910-11.	Difference.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Income	2,18,266	2,92,542	+74,276
Expenditure	2,46,818	2,11,403	—35,415

90. The increase in receipts is chiefly due to a loan of Rs. 60,000 having been taken on the 1st December 1910.

91. The decrease in expenditure chiefly occurs under the following heads:—

- (1) Water works.
- (2) Plague.
- (3) Public Works Department (Roads).

Under head "Water works" the decrease is chiefly due to no further action having been taken in connection with the new Water Supply Scheme during the year under report.

The decrease under head "Plague" is due to no extraordinary expenditure having been incurred after the plague had abated.

Roads.—The decrease is due to ordinary repairs only having been done.

92. The gross and net receipts from octroi in the two years are shown below:—

	Gross. Rs.	Net. Rs.
1909-10	1,58,899	1,21,853
1910-11	2,07,399	1,54,745
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Difference	+48,500	+32,892

The gross increase of 48,500 may be ascribed to the revival of trade after the abatement of plague.

93. The total disbursement during the year under report amounted to Rs. 2,64,057 against Rs. 2,83,864 in the previous year.

94. The variations chiefly occurred under the following heads:—

	Increase. Rs.	Decrease. Rs.
Refunds	15,608	..
Lighting	1,136	..
Water supply	13,454
Conservancy	16,798	..
Plague	28,177
Roads	8,340
Other items	1,673	..
Advances	3,736
Deposits	6,494
Survey	2,079	..

The increase in Refunds is due—

- (1) to an increase in the octroi income;
- (2) to the minimum amount of refund allowed having been reduced from Re. 1 to annas 8; and
- (3) to Rs. 2,282 having been refunded to the Rajputana-Malwa Railway Co-operative Association.

The increase under the head Conservancy is mainly due to the purchase of conservancy bullock-carts and other appurtenances, etc.

The increase of Rs. 1,673 under the head "Other items" is chiefly due to printing electoral lists and revised forms of accounts and to expenses incurred on account of Census operations.

The decrease under the heads "Water supply" "Plague" and "Roads" has already been explained.

95. A sum of Rs. 6,172 was paid during the year in the discharge of Government loans.

The balance of the loan still due from the Municipality amounts to Rs. 2,26,767 at the end of the year.

96. The incidence of taxation rose from Rs. 1-10-4 to Rs. 1-13-2.

The total rainfall between June 1910 and September 1910 was 23·17 inches.

The water level in the Reservoir on 1st April 1910 was 20·31 feet, and it reached the lowest level, viz., 16·33 on the 28th June 1910.

The fall from 1st April 1910 to 28th June 1910 was 3·98 against 3·75 feet from 1st April to 28th June 1909 in the previous year.

100. The triennial election of Municipal Commissioners was held on the 14th December 1910, and the newly elected Commissioners were to come into office on the 1st April 1911.

101. The water works project continues to occupy the attention of the Municipality, and the question of the preparation of detailed estimates is now before the Committee, but before applying for the loan required, the Committee were anxious to ascertain the chances of their annual net income being improved—

(a) by the relief of the Municipality from Police expenditure.

102. The number of recorded births rose from 1,206 to 1,422 and the number of deaths fell from 6,609 to 2,698.

These variations are due to recovery after the severe epidemic of plague and malaria during the previous year. The birth and death rate per mille of population was 16·48 and 31·27, as against 16·33 and 89·56 respectively in the preceding year.

The mortality among children under five years of age was 1,056 (39·14 per cent. of the total mortality) against 1,254 in the previous year.

Two cases of cholera both fatal and four deaths from small-pox were reported.

103. The total number of vaccinations performed in the Ajmer Town and suburbs was 2,608, against 1,949 last year. The increase is due to the disappearance of the plague epidemic. The number of primary vaccinations was 2,319 and of revaccinations 289, against 1,869 and 80 respectively last year.

104. The conservancy carts and almost all the rolling stock being defective, six carts, six trolleys and 96 receptacles were purchased during the period under review. A new supply has also been ordered from the Empire Engineering Company, Cawnpore, consisting of 50 carts, 40 trolleys and 1,500 receptacles at a cost of Rs. 35,415. Four new one-seated moveable galvanised iron urinals have been provided in the city. Almost all the latrines and urinals in Municipal limits are now provided with galvanised iron receptacles for both solids and liquids. Many private privies in the city and suburbs have been improved. Three incinerators are in use. Drainage is still defective, saucer drains being required in many of the streets, especially in the dyer's quarters. The slaughter house and meat markets are still in an unsatisfactory condition. A scheme of improvement is still under consideration.

105. There was no change in the Municipal boundaries during the year.

107. The net total income of the year amounted to Rs. 96,834 as against Rs. 58,041 in 1909-1910 and the expenditure to Rs. 60,282 as against Rs. 62,069. The closing balance amounted to Rs. 53,972, exclusive of Rs. 10,000 invested in Government paper.

108. The increase of Rs. 38,793 in the income occurred chiefly under the head "Octroi" which realised a net amount of Rs. 92,639 (after deducting refunds) as against 54,301 in the preceding year. This increase is attributed mainly to the very good outturn of the Cotton Crop.

109. The incidence of octroi taxation on a population of 22,379 was Rs. 4-2-1 per head, as against Rs. 2-7-6 in the year 1909-1910.

110. Compared with the previous year the expenditure shows a decrease of Rs. 8,931 which occurred chiefly under the heads Water Supply and Conservancy.

111. The construction of the "Colvin Town Hall," it is expected, will be completed by the end of July 1911.

112. No original work in connection with the water supply scheme was taken in hand during the year under report.

117. The increase of Rs. 1,255 in income over the figures of last year is principally visible under the head of Octroi, which is the chief source of revenue of the Municipality and shows an increase of Rs. 914. This increase is chiefly due to the larger import of grain, gur and ghi for consumption in marriage and funeral feasts celebrated during the year. The increase of Rs. 96 in expenditure over the figures of the previous year was mainly under the heads of Conservancy and General miscellaneous.

118. Proposals for improving the financial position of the Kekri Municipality are still under consideration.

168. The receipts from Hemp Drugs amounted to Rs. 16,260, against 14,237 Hemp Drugs in the preceding year, the increase being due to a large import of Charas.

169. The number of shops for the retail vend of intoxicating drugs was the same as in the preceding year, viz., 16.

170. During the year 22 persons were prosecuted under the Excise Act, of whom 20 were convicted. Under the Opium Act 21 persons were prosecuted and 12 were convicted. There were no prosecutions of Chandu smokers. The number of Chandu dens was 12 as against 11 in the preceding year. 115 persons were convicted under the Police Act for drunkenness during the year under report.

171. The position of Ajmer-Merwara affords exceptional facilities for the smuggling of liquor and opium from surrounding Native States, but every endeavour is made by the preventive staff to put down smuggling. General Remarks.

172. The steady growth of revenue has been a marked feature of the history of Excise in this district. It is due mainly to the introduction of the contract distillery system for the manufacture and supply of country liquor, and partly to the activity and constant supervision of the preventive establishment.

(3) Stamps.

173. The gross income from stamps amounted to Rs. 1,68,627, as against Rs. 1,42,416 in the year 1909-1910, as detailed below:—

	1909-1910. 1910-1911.
	Rs.	Rs.	Inc-ase.
Judicial Stamps	1,03,963	1,21,004	17,041
Non Judicial	38,453	47,623	9,170
TOTAL	1,42,416	1,68,627	26,211

174. The increase of Rs. 17,041 in the revenue from judicial stamps was due to the larger number of suits instituted and to the general restoration of normal trade conditions after the effects of the plague epidemic in the previous year. No prosecutions took place during the year for any breach of the Stamp law, nor was anything recovered on account of pauper suits.

175. There was no change in the number of Stamp Vendors during the year. The discount paid amounted to Rs. 3,027, as against Rs. 2,550 in the year 1909-1910.

176. The total charge in connection with the working of the Stamp Department amounted to Rs. 17,558, as compared with Rs. 15,381 in the previous year.

(4) Income Tax.

177. The number of persons assessed to income tax during the year under report was 778 against 761 last year.

178. The final demand and the collections as compared with those for 1909-10 are as follows :—

	1910-11.	1909-10.
Final demand	61,514	70,765
Collections	58,923	69,178

179. The gross collections, including arrears and penalties, amounted to Rs. 61,230, as against Rs. 69,253 in the previous year as shown below :—

	1910-11.	1909-10.
Tax	58,923	69,178
Arrears	2,307	75
Total Rs.	61,230	69,253

180. There were no prosecutions during the year, but the amount collected includes Rs. 23 on account of penalties. The cost of collection was Rs. 1,194 against Rs. 1,246 last year. The net profit accruing to Government on the year's working being Rs. 60,036 compared with Rs. 67,964 in the preceding year.

181. During the year under report the Extra Assistant Commissioner I, Ajmer, exercised the powers of Collector to make all assessments under Part IV up to the sum of Rs. 250 on an income of Rs. 9,600 and to hear and pass orders on objections filed under section 26 of the Act against the assessments made by him. The Collector of Ajmer also exercised the revisional powers of the Commissioner under section 27 of the Act, in regard to petitions preferred against all orders made by the Extra Assistant Commissioner I, under section 26 of the Act.

182. The number of objections was 63, all under Part IV. Of these 21 were allowed, 23 partly accepted, 5 remained pending and 14 were rejected.

183. There were 7 applications for revision presented to the Collector, under section 27 of the Act, against the orders passed by the Extra Assistant Commissioner I. Out of these 7 applications 3 were rejected, 2 were accepted and 2 remained pending at the close of the year. No application for revision was presented to the Commissioner from the orders of the Collector.

184. The percentage of collections under Parts I, II, III and IV of the Income Tax Act, came respectively to Rs. 27.73, 5.57, 1.54 and 27.27, and the incidence of income tax per head of population in the city of Ajmer calculated on the amount collected during the year was 3 annas 9 pies against 6 annas 10 pies in the previous year. The decrease in the incidence is due partly to the population of Ajmer having been taken at 86,273 (the figure returned at the last census) instead of at 73,839 the old figure, and partly to receipts being less owing to trade having been paralysed by plague in the year 1909-10, the income whereof was taken as the basis of assessment for 1910-11. Some large reductions were also allowed on revision to a few of the leading bankers.

B.—REVENUE AND FINANCE OTHER THAN IMPERIAL.

185. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 30,178. Receipts amounted to Rs. 45,974 and expenditure to Rs. 44,562, leaving a balance of Rs. 31,590.

186. The receipts show a decrease of Rs. 1,509, as compared with the income of the previous year, due mainly to the fact that the distribution list of the new demand having been communicated by the Settlement Department late in March 1911, the demand for Kharif 1318 Fashi, which fell due on the 1st January 1911, could not be fully recovered.

District Fund,
excluding Dispensary
and Victoria
Memorial Funds.

187. The expenditure rose from Rs. 40,408 in 1909-1910 to Rs. 44,562, an increase of Rs. 4,154 which occurred chiefly under the head "Road Fund" in the civil charges and was due to the payment of a sum of Rs. 4,984 to the Public Works Department on account of contribution for the upkeep of the Ajmer-Pushkar road and the metalled portion (47 miles) of the Beawar-Dawair road lately transferred to the Imperial list.

188. The Veterinary Dispensary and Shoeing forge at Ajmer continued to work satisfactorily during the year under report. The two Nagori bulls which were purchased in 1907 having become fit for covering purposes were located at Ramsar and Jethana. They are so far reported to have worked as satisfactorily as might be expected.

189. During the year under report only one meeting of the Board was held.

LOCAL FUNDS.

190. The cash balance at the credit of the Dispensary Fund at the beginning of the year was Rs. 2,165. The gross receipts amounted to Rs. 8,627, as against Rs. 7,706 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 921, which was due to certain arrears of subscriptions having been recovered during the year. The expenditure fell from Rs. 7,311 in 1909-1910 to Rs. 7,140. The decrease of Rs. 171 occurs chiefly under the heads "Dieting" and "Medicines." The year closed with a cash balance of Rs. 3,651 besides Rs. 23,500 invested in Government securities.

191. At the close of the year the account of the Deolia Dispensary showed a debit balance of Rs. 30, this being due to the non-payment of his annual contribution by the Istamrardar. The debit balance against the Todgarh Dispensary amounted to Rs. 1,110 as against Rs. 1,137 last year.

192. There was no income to the fund during the year under report, nor was there any expenditure. The year closed with a cash balance of Rs. 572.

193. The receipts amounted to Rs. 12,999 as compared with Rs. 14,476 in 1909-10. The decrease of Rs. 1,477 is due to a larger balance of the current amount having been left outstanding than in the last year. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 10,867 as against Rs. 12,668 in 1909-10, a decrease of Rs. 1,801, which is attributed to the fact that winter uniforms were not supplied to Chowkidars during the year under report, as they were issued in the preceding year. The cash balance at the close of the year stood at Rs. 15,611.

194. The receipts amounted to Rs. 2,854, as against Rs. 2,662 in 1909-10, the increase of Rs. 192 being attributed to a larger amount having been credited to the fund during the year on account of horse allowances in consequence of vacancies amongst sowars. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 2,723 against 1,574 in the preceding year, showing an increase of Rs. 1,149 which is due to a proportionate increase in the cost of maintaining horses and to the refund of a larger amount of entrance donations to sowars, pensioned and resigned. The balance at the close of the year was Rs. 1,748.

195. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 61,962, as compared with Rs. 54,426 in 1909-10, the increase of Rs. 7,536 being due to the introduction of the revised octroi schedule and tax on trades and professions. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 64,573 as against Rs. 56,682 in the preceding year. The increase of Rs. 7,891 was mainly on account of the refund of license fees, the imposition of which was decided by the Government of India to be illegal, and the construction of a new mutton market. The year closed with a balance of Rs. 19,308 to the credit of the Fund as against Rs. 21,918 in 1909-10.

SECTION VII.

GENERAL MISCELLANEOUS.

- Pushkar Fair. 208. The annual religious Fair at Pushkar was held between the 13th and 16th November 1910. The attendance was the largest on record for many years. The general arrangements were ably carried out by the Committee which as usual was formed for the purpose. The sanitary arrangements were all that could be desired and in spite of the large crowds no epidemic disease of any kind occurred during the Fair.
209. The Horse Show and Cattle Fair formed a prominent part of the programme of the Fair, as usual. The extra large attendance at the Fair may be attributed to the agricultural prosperity of the country, the absence of any general epidemic and the occurrence of a lunar eclipse, which attracted a very considerable gathering of pilgrims. The Police arrangements were excellent, and no serious crime occurred during the fair.
210. The Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition, which was held for the second time proved a centre of attraction and added much to the success of the Fair.
- Urs Fair. 211. The annual Urs Fair in connection with the Shrine of the Durgah Khwaja Sahib at Ajmer was held from the 9th to the 14th July 1910. The usual Police arrangements were made, and no violent or unusual crime occurred, nor did any disturbance take place. There was an average attendance at the Fair.
- Beawar Tejaji Fair. 212. The Tejaji Fair at Beawar was held from the 13th to the 15th September 1910 and was attended by the Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara, the Assistant Commissioner, Merwara, the Superintendent of Police, Ajmer-Merwara, and the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Ajmer-Merwara. The gathering at the Fair was between 10,000 and 15,000 persons.
- Kekri Tejaji Fair. 213. The Tejaji Fair at Kekri commenced and ended a day earlier than at Beawar. The gathering at the fair was about 10,000, and included people from the neighbouring Native States.
- Printing Presses, vide Table No. 1. Serial No. 53. 214. At the beginning of 1910 there were 10 printing presses. One of these the Railway Co-operative press was closed by the owner during the year. Thus the number of presses at the close of the year was 9, and no new press was started. Two newspapers and six periodicals in all were issued from the remaining presses.
215. Two periodicals, the "Punjab Mission Record" and "Paropkari," were closed by the Mission and Vedic presses respectively. A new periodical named "Foreman Christian College Magazine" was started by the Mission Press.
216. One book in Latin and 27 in Indian languages were published during the year.
- Bhumias. 24th June. 217. Owing to the suspension of all public functions on the day appointed in 1910 for the official observance of the Birthday of His Majesty the King-Emperor, the usual ceremony of receiving the Bhumias and their nazaranas was held by the Assistant Commissioner, Ajmer, on the 5th September 1910. Out of the total demand of Rs. 3,961 a sum of Rs. 3,878 was recovered at the Darbar, the balance being recovered in full afterwards.
- Treasure Trove. 218. No information of the finding of Treasure Trove was received during the year 1910-1911.

NOTE.—Column 2.—Total of the entries in columns 3 to 13. Cases transferred from one Court to another in the same Province will appear only against the Court by which decided, or in which pending at the close of the year, if not decided. The number of cases pending from the preceding year should be noted in the column of Remarks, and when deducted from the total of column 2 should leave a balance corresponding with the total of column 38 of Statement VII. If after deducting the arrears shown at the end of the previous year, the balance does not agree with the figures in column 38 of Statement VII, the difference should be explained.

Column 6.—When under section 102, C. P. C., a decree is wholly or partially made in favour of an absent plaintiff on the admission of the defendant, the case should be entered in this column.

Column 8.—A case in which defendant appears, but a plaintiff does not, and defendant does not confess judgment and the case is thereupon dismissed, the case should be entered in this column.

Column 15.—As regards the average duration of suits, the date of their presentation of the plaint shall be considered as the date of institution, unless some defect or omission requires to be amended before the plaint can be admitted, in which case the date of admission after amendment shall be regarded as the date of institution. With regard to applications to execute decrees, the date of their presentation should alone be considered. In calculating average duration, the time that the suit has been actually pending in the particular Court should alone be calculated. The interval should be omitted during which an application for review which has been granted, or an appeal in which an error of remand has been passed, been pending in the superior Court. Revived suits are to be treated as if newly instituted on revival.
